

Sean P O'Malley
Managing Principal, SWA Group

Sean O'Malley is Managing Principal of SWA Group's Laguna Beach Studio and a licensed landscape architect and urban designer with over 27 years of experience in planning, urban design, landscape design, and construction. Sean combines his experience in environmental and large-scale urban design to formulate comprehensive land-based solutions that respect and respond to the environment they inhabit. His planning approach emphasizes the importance of environmental infrastructure as a basis for city-building, blurring the boundary between architecture and landscape.
